FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1915.

Help a student to a job. You will get the worth of your money and be a benefactor.

Middlebury College has administered its scholarships as prescribed by the laws of the State. They have been assigned to "needy and deserving students," and have not been held out as prizes for high rank in school, irrespective of financial need. Its own scholarship funds have been carefully safeguarded and managed according to good business methods. Every applicant has been obliged to prove his worth and his need, and no college scholarship has been granted for more than three-fifths of the annual tuition charge. Notwithstanding this conservatism, which keeps the college in good financial condition, and the free offering of much larger scholarships elsewhere, the entering class is one-fifth larger than those of the two previous years.

ORLEANS COUNTY RE-UNION.

The Barton Monitor prints a full account of the recent re-union of the Orleans County representatives in the legislature of 1915, at which Speaker John E. Weeks was a special guest. The report of the addresses of Judge Weeks, President Thomas and Judge Miles are as follows:

"As was fitting John E. Weeks led off the speech-making and gave a general resume of State legislation and State politics, from the election of Josiah Groat as governor down to the present legislature, and as was also fitting and proper, he did not neglect to laud the present legislature. A most enlightening and lucid talk, which brought State laws and politics down through a period of unusual activity. Mr. Weeks also extended a cordial invitation to the assembled members to hold their second annual meeting, as his guests at Montpelier next year.

"Following Mr. Weeks, John M.
Thomas of Middlebury eulogized our part of the State, its wonderful scenery and fertile farming country. Mr.
Thomas said that this was his first visit to this part of the State, and he was impressed with all he saw. As was natural, Mr. Thomas talked Middlebury college, of which institution he is president. He told of the advantages to the poor boys and girls at Middlebury, where the tuition and yearly expenses were very low and where an excellent course of study was pursued. Mr.
Thomas has a very convincing manner, and you are bound to believe every word he says. He forgets himself in his enthusiasm for his college, but it is easy to see why Middlebury ranks so well among the institutions of learning, when you once hear Mr. Thomas talk.

"Superior Court Judge W. W. Miles's talk on the judiciary was excellent.
The judge says that the difference between the bench and the judges, is the bench lives on while the judges must eventually die. He believes that the judges should be elected by the representatives and not by the appointees of any single man or group of politicians and evidently the representatives present, as well as absent, agree with the judge, that our courts should not flavor of politics in any manner. Judge Miles is the sort of impartial judge, on whom the entire State looks with profound respect, as a man free from any political clique and an exception as a man honored in his own town and county."

EDWIN S. S. SUNDERLAND IN MISSOURI PACIFIC SUIT.

Edwin S. S. Sunderland, formerly of Cornwall and a recent graduate of Middlebury College, represented the law firm of Stetson, Jennings and Russell in an application before Circuit Judge E. B. Adams of St. Louis for permission to bring a foreclosure suit against the Missouri Pacific railroad. Judge Adams heard the application at his summer home in this State and acted favorably upon it. Accordingly a suit for foreclosure was filed in the Federal District Court at St. Louis last Sunday by the Guarantee Trust Company of New York and B. F. Edwards of St.
Louis.

MISSION AT THE CHURCH OF
THE ASSUMPTION.

The Passionist Fathers of New York are to begin a week's mission at St.
Mary's church on Sunday, October 3d, and continue until October 10, inclusive. The mission will open with a procession from the front door to the High Altar at the end of the first Gospel of the High Mass on Sunday, October 3d. During the procession the choir will sing the hymn "Come Holy Ghost." The Sundays of the mission the Masses will be at the usual hours, 8:30 and 10:30 a. m., and the evening services will begin promptly at 7:30.
On week days the order of services will be as follows: In the morning, First Mass followed by a short instruction, at 5 o'clock. Last Mass, with an instruction at 8 o'clock. In the evening, services at 7:30, consisting of Rosary, Sermon and Benediction. Three or more evenings there will be an instruction before the sermon. The children will have their mission apart, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday afternoon and longer if feasible. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the mission.
"And other sheep I have that are not of this fold, them also I must bring and they shall hear My voice, and there shall be one fold and one Shepherd."

MIDDLEBURY BRANCH OF NAVY LEAGUE.

Mrs. J. H. Stewart and Mrs. C. H.
Lane of this town have been appointed members of the National Committee of the Woman's Section of the Navy League of the United States to organize the local work of that body in arousing the women of the United States to the necessity in the present days of stress and peril to work for the ends of patriotism and National Defense. They will act in conjunction with a body of more than a thousand of the most prominent women in every section of the United States.

The Woman's Section of the Navy League is the first and only woman's organization in this country working for the cause of patriotism and national defense. It was organized by a number of patriotic women in Washington whose husbands were members of the men's Navy League who thought that women ought to have some part in the national defense movement exclusively their own. The section's call to the women of America to rally to the cause of patriotism instantly struck a responsive key-note in the hearts and imaginings of the patriotic women all over the country. Letters have been received from prominent women all over the country, enthusiastically endorsing the league, and memberships have been pouring in at the rate of several thousand a day. At present, although the work has been in progress only a little more than two weeks, the section has over ten thousand active working members.

ATTENTION ADDISON COUNTY
FARMERS.

The nineteen hundred and fifteen fairs are history. Now the work of the County Agent is again in the field.
Demonstrations are showing results and profit thereby. During the next few weeks the 1915 demonstrations will be complete and the County Agent will summarize the work for the benefit of the Addison County Farmers' Association members.

During the next month the Lime Demonstrations, about twenty in number, will have been started. The results of these demonstrations will extend over several years as the lime gets in its work gradually. Keep this in mind.
The 1915 season from the standpoint of field crops is nearly at a close. Every farmer should now spend some time in meditation over what has been the result of his work during the spring and summer, asking himself such questions as these:

What have been the best crops? Why?
Is the distribution of labor balanced, or are we rushed with work one week and little to do the next? Why?

What have been the biggest problems in the community during the season?
What shall I do about them next year?

Spend a few hours in meditation and be ready for the County Agent when he makes a visit. The Agent is going to confine his efforts as far as possible to the greatest needs of the community.
What are they? Every community should have a live Farmers' Organization with which the County Agent could discuss these problems. At present he is working almost alone and individual effort accomplishes little.

ENTERTAIN PARTY AT LAKE.

Friends to the number of about twenty-five called on Mr. and Mrs. George Hightner, who are spending their honeymoon at Camp Idlewild, Lake Dun-more, and spent Sunday, September 20, with them. A very enjoyable time was had. Among those who made the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hightner and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie A.
Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. James Parish, Mr. and Mrs. George Murray and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Hightner, Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Boardman and family, E.
G. Brown, Miss Lena Brown and Mrs.
Amelia LaBounty. The party returned to their home in Cornwall Sunday evening.

MR. PARTRIDGE DELIVERS AD-DRESS.

Frank C. Partridge of Proctor, president of the Vermont Marble company, addressed the annual meeting of the Vermont Credit Men's association here Tuesday evening. He gave an interesting resume of various reasons which have led to the present business depression in this country and cautioned business men to be discreet in the extension of credit during the progress of the European war. The association elected the following officers: President, F. E.
Kimball; vice president, Charles L.
Woodbury; secretary and treasurer, H.
S. Howard.

POLICE ROUND UP AUTO
THIEVES.

State's Attorney Allen R. Sturtevant has been notified by the police department of Boston that the men wanted in this village for the burglary committed about six weeks ago at the garage of W. H. Stokes on Washington street have been arrested and are in the custody of the police in Boston. It will be remembered that they stole two autos, a Ford touring car and a Chevrolet run-about.

It is said that there are six in the gang which operated in various Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont towns, stealing something like $10,000 worth of automobiles and accessories.

The men are said to be residents of Jaffrey, N. H.

PLENTY OF GAME.

County Game Warden George H.
Chaffee reports that there is an exceptionally large amount of partridges owing to the somewhat dry season. The warden wishes to remind hunters that they must report and show the head of every deer, either buck or doe, killed within a reasonable time after such killing. The season for the shooting of deer will begin November 15 and close December 5, from 5 a. m. and before 5 p. m., Sundays excepted.

SUDBURY.

Mr. and Mrs. William Damon and Miss Ruth Cook visited Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Damon of East Middlebury, Friday.

E. J. Foster and John Bucklin attended the State Fair in White River Junction last week.

James McLaughlin and grandson, Master Jack Piexotto of New York city, have returned after spending several weeks at C. W. Smalley's.

Freeman Jenks was given a surprise party Monday evening, the occasion being his 19th birthday. Games were played and refreshments served.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Cameron of Shoreham spent Sunday at Walter Cameron's.

Mrs. John Raleigh and children of Pittsford Mills are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Mulcahy.

Sudbury Grange met Thursday evening. The first and second degrees were conferred on several candidates.

Miss Belle King of Benson is visiting at Clyde Barber's.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Hook, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burnham, Mrs. Driver, Miss Austin and Frank Wilson of Reading and Mrs. Nellie Griffin of Masonville, Iowa, spent Sunday at A. G. and C. W.
Jones'.

Mrs. Andrew Webster, formerly of this place, but now of East Montpelier, is visiting friends in town.

Sudden Muscular Aches and Pains—Need Not Be!

That is—if you use the right remedy.
Sloan's Liniment is a real necessity in every home—for young and old. Its merit is praised in dozens of letters. A stiff neck from colds, children's sprains, those aching muscles, that sharp neuralgic pain—these find guaranteed relief in Sloan's Liniment. Every home needs it. Sudden aches and accidents.
Your home needs a bottle. 25c., 50c.,

115 NEW STUDENTS.

with its past, to shake itself loose from its superstitions, weaknesses, and vices, to withstand the ever-present drag towards ignorance, cruelty, and bestiality, and to lead and strengthen the forces which make for enlightenment and freedom and spiritual worth.

"The curriculum of a college is a summary of the triumphs of the human spirit in the principal fields of man's endeavor. Every study is a record of some notable achievement in humanity's rise toward freedom. There pass before the student in magnificent array the great creators and discoverers of the human race, the men who have built its enduring institutions and stamped their thought upon nations and generations of men.

"The result of living in such an atmosphere can scarcely fail, with a sympathetic mind, to be an awakening to new ambitions and new powers. The old spirit of work, if it was at all listless and careless, seems entirely unworthy and is resolutely put aside. One has been brought into a new fellowship and must conduct himself accordingly.
There is a new goal for the ambition and in the press toward it a new manhood comes to be.

"We often hear tributes to an inspiring teacher, some one to whom an especial debt of gratitude is acknowledged because of a certain awakening to new possibilities and ideals of life. Sometimes such a teacher deals with subjects in which the student has little natural interest and which he does not care to pursue in after life. That does not diminish the teacher's value, because his service is not the communication of a body of knowledge, but insight into great principles of life—an awakening to the world, this world of which man is determined to be master, for which mastery humanity is engaged in a stupendous and magnificent fight, and in which fight it is possible to bear a part of honor.

"With an awakened mind old time obstacles are surmounted and difficulties disappear. It is as if scales had fallen from one's eyes. Sometimes there is a fire kindled within a man that makes him a hundred times his former self.
The spirit worketh all things as well as searcheth them, and a man who has won a new spirit of enthusiasm and of mastery will accomplish tasks which were once far beyond his powers.

"I have tried to bring before you two truths, apparently inconsistent yet both unmistakably true, in which the full truth lies, as it so often does, in a combination or synthesis of both. On the one hand, a man must be judged by his record and his past is likely to be the prophecy of his future. We may say we are through with the old days, but the old days are by no means through with us. We propose to turn over a new leaf, but we find the old one clamped down by bands of steel.

"But, on the other hand, a man is not a slave, not even the slave of his own past. New occasions make new men. Contact with new personalities, men who have struggled and suffered and triumphed and won their freedom, quicken the nerves and inflame the mind till one is ashamed of his sloth, roused from his dullness, and empowered to deeds his old friends would not have dreamed. The old days may not be through with us, but they need not command us. The new leaf we wish to turn may be clamped down, but the clamps may be broken. The new habits and the new associations may be hard to acquire, but the story of the world's leaders is full of instances of those who have broken with their past and stood forth strong in a new triumphant manhood.

"In various ways we want a new Middlebury, in quality not less than in size. Let us bring every tradition and custom to the bar of judgment and make the future not the weak repetition of the past but a new era according to our highest ideals and our purest judgment. Let me remind you of some stanzas Carlyle found in Goethe, as particularly appropriate to our situation.

So here hath been dawning
Another blue Day;
Think wilt thou let it
Slip useless away.

Out of eternity
This new Day is born;
Unto Eternity,
At night, will return.

Behold it aforesaid
No eye ever did;
So soon it forever
From all eyes is hid.

Here hath been dawning
Another blue Day;
Think wilt thou let it
Slip useless away.

MEMBERS OF THE INCOMING CLASS:
"To you in particular this is a fresh new day. Perhaps never in your life will you have an opportunity to start so nearly on equal terms with others in a new task, like that which is yours this morning. We have scanned your record carefully, but from this moment we forget it and judge you by what you do here. If you have come with high commendation, it is yours to prove yourself worthy of it. Your record will not last you long in the face of poor work. If you have had difficulty in admission, you have now the chance to put a different record behind you.
We shall do our best to give you a fair field and not much favor. We shall strive to bring to you the stimulus of inspiring contact with the world's great achievements in literature and in sci-welcome you heartily and ask you to enter into the spirit and the pride of our college. We are proud of the men who have gone from our halls for a hundred and fifteen years. We are proud of our heritage from the people

WATER TAX
October 1 to 15, 1915

The following resolution is the vote of the village of Middlebury:

During the months of March and September the collector shall publish in the Middlebury Register and post in the postoffice a notice stating when and where he will receive the water tax. Fifteen days shall be allowed for the payment of said tax; at the expiration of that time the commissioners shall shut off the water from the premises of all persons whose tax is unpaid.

All such taxes that are not paid when time limit expires the above resolution will be enforced.

In compliance with the above vote I will be at the store of Taber & Duncan every week day from October 1 to 15 to receive said taxes. Office hours 9 a. m. to 12 and 2 to 6 p. m.

J. D. WOODS,

Collector for Water Commissioners.
383 Middlebury, Vt., Sept. 14, 1915.
